

BIG LAKE Make it out to Big Lake, the largest lake near Edmonton and protected as part of Lois Hole Centennial Provincial Park. Drop in a kayak and paddle away the afternoon, or cast your line for Northern Pike, Walleye, and Stickleback fish.

TRUMPETER LANDING Connecting with your neighbours is just as important as connecting with nature. As the social centre for Trumpeter, Trumpeter Landing is a place for parents to meet and kids to play. Toboggan in the winter, play soccer in the summer, and frequent the playground year-round to further experience the beauty of nature outside your door.

BIOSWALES Preserving nature is just as important as appreciating it. Trumpeter is respectfully created in tune with nature, intentionally designed for a low ecological footprint. Medians planted with wild, native flora – called bioswales - aid in water retention, air purification, and echo the beauty found throughout the Big Lake natural area.

SHOPPING AND SERVICES Trumpeter will soon be home to an in-community commercial space, with plans to include a day care, convenience store and restaurants.

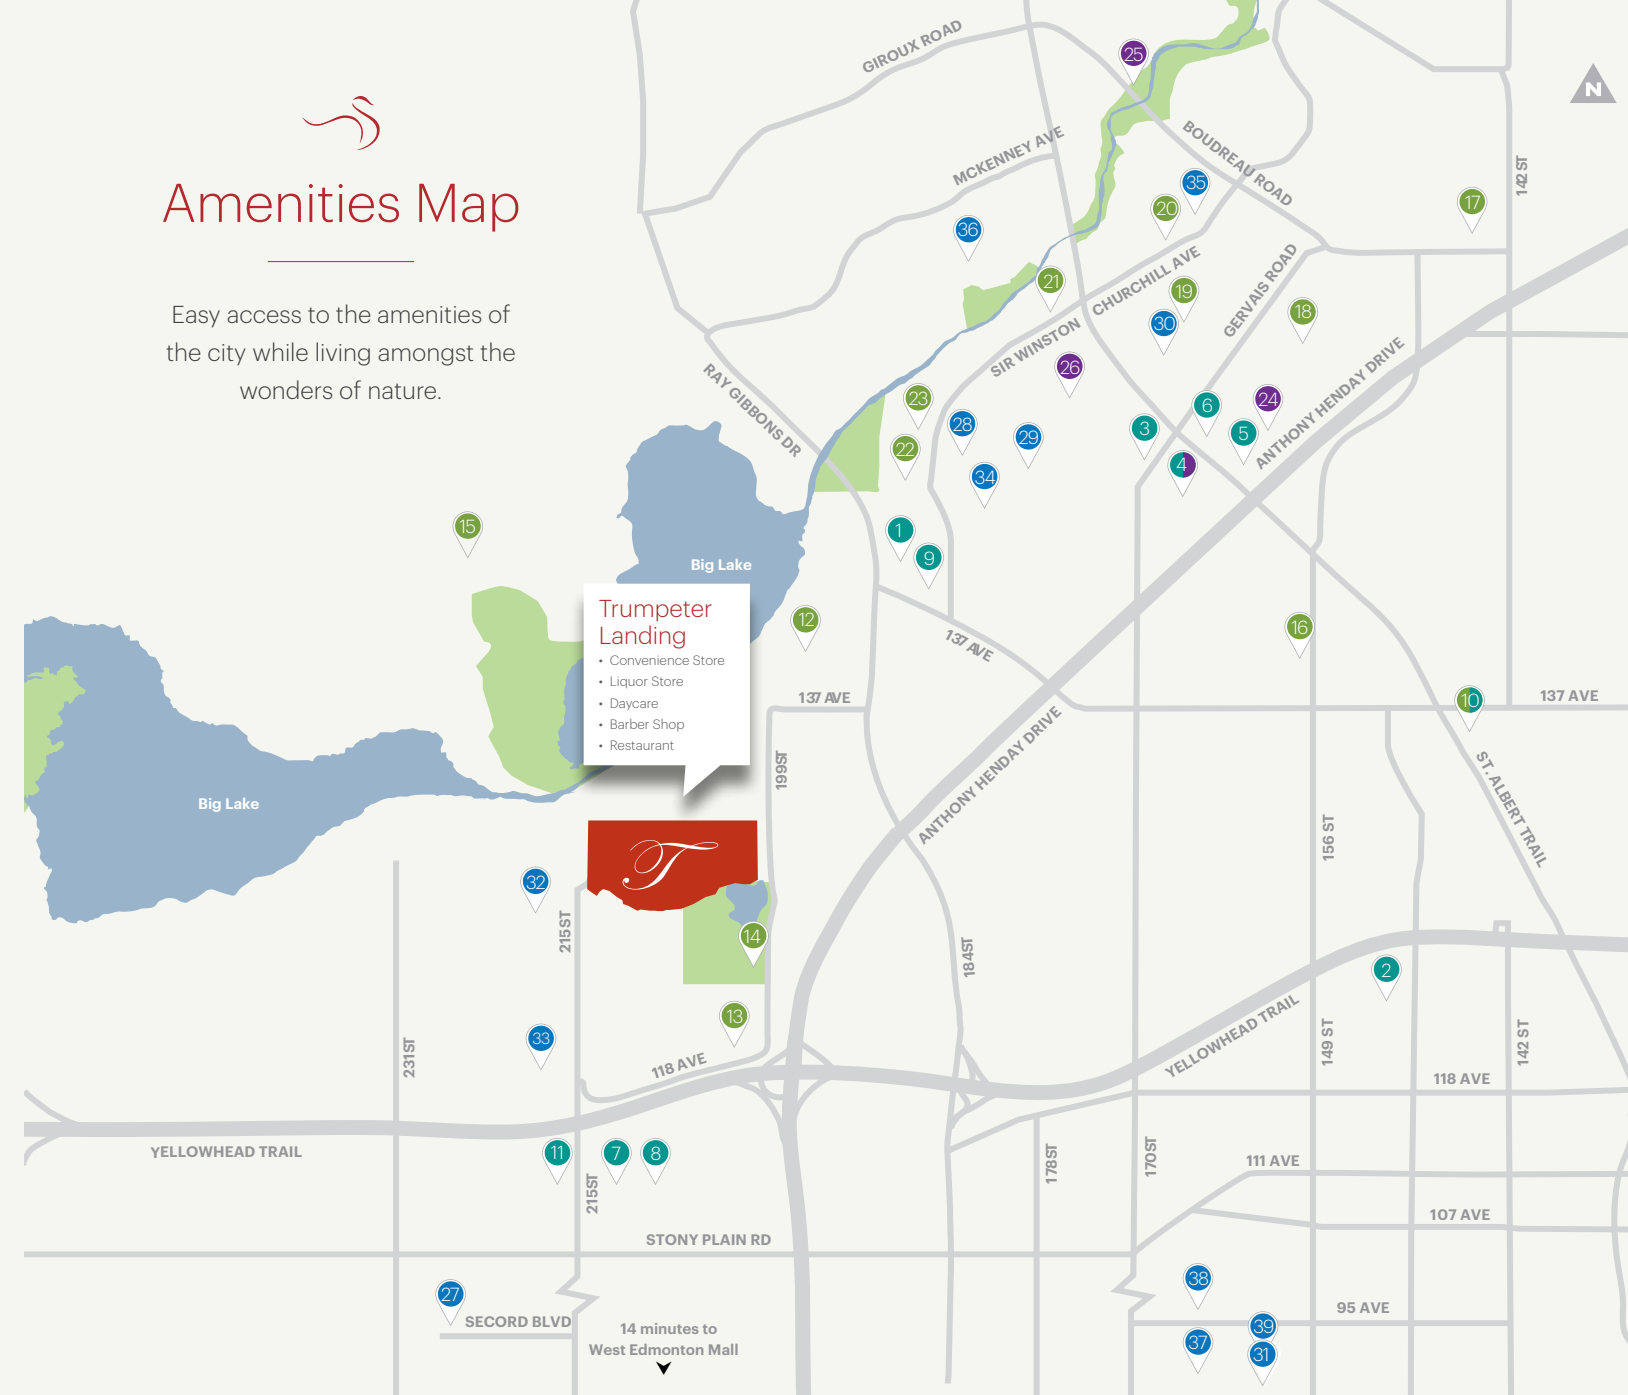

WETLANDS Water is essential to life – not only ours, but the environment and animals within it. At Trumpeter, we've dedicated space to constructed wetlands and ponds throughout the community. Another chance to ensure we protect the nature we live in, these wetlands also provide essential areas for animals such as beavers, deer, and bird species.

LOIS HOLE PROVINCIAL PARK Explore the 1800 hectares of Lois Hole Centennial Provincial Park, just beyond the Trumpeter community. Walk along the boardwalk, try to spot some of the 235 diverse bird species in the area, and head up to the wildlife viewing deck to spot beavers, deer, moose and more.

Your Place in Nature

Trumpeter is a Low Impact Community, which means your decision to live in this community protects the 67 acres of environmental reserve and wonders of nature that populate it. The outdoors merges gradually with the community, medians and parks are populated by native flowers and shrubs. Meander through five kilometers of trails intertwined with the community, along the ravine and Horseshoe Lake or head up to Big Lake for a kayak. Spend winter days racing down the community toboggan hill and spring mornings playing catch in the park, or simply take a moment to marvel at all the wondrous things the great outdoors has to offer.
